

	List of Figures
	List of Tables
	A Note on Terms, Translations, and Transcriptions
	Preface to the Paperback Edition
	Acknowledgments
	Introduction: Printing, Eurocentrism, and the Study of the Social in Early Modern China
1.	Cost of Production and Book Prices
2.	The Chinese Book and Late-Ming Commercialization
3.	Commodification of Writing, Examination, and Publishing
4.	Paratext: Commentaries, Ideology, and the Book
5.	Public Authority, Literary Criticism, and Organizational Power
	Conclusion: Printing and Literary Culture in Early Modern China
	Appendixes
	Character List
	Abbreviations
	Notes
	Bibliography
	Index