

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This volume is the product of a project that came to fruition with the conference Terrorism Financing and State Responses in Comparative Perspective, held in November 2004 at the Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey, California, with support from the school's Center for Homeland Defense and Security. We thank all of our contributing authors for their hard work and their patience with our questions and requests for clarification. We would also like to thank the conference discussants who helped the authors reformulate their arguments: David Mares, Feroz Khan, Maria Rasmussen, and Anne Marie Baylouny. Our conference coordinator, Surinder Rana, and our managing editor for this project, Jeffrey Larsen, made invaluable contributions by ensuring that the project, the contributors, and the editors stayed on track. We also thank the Center for Civil-Military Relations at the Naval Postgraduate School for providing support for the completion of this volume. Finally, we would also like to underline that the views expressed in this volume are those of the authors, and do not represent those of their employers, the Department of Defense, or the U.S. government.
