

Contents

---

Preface xi

Introduction 1

1. "The Paragon of the World": English Constitutional History as National Identity 7
2. "A Three-Step Waltz, Germany, England, and New England Eternally Round and Round": Constitutional History as Racial Hierarchy 27
3. "I Do Not Believe in the Philosophy of History and I Do Not Believe in Buckle": Constitutional History as an Academic Profession 56
  4. "A Too Acrimonious Spirit": Constitutional History as Culture Wars 89
5. "Our Law Is, in Fact, the Sum and Substance of What We Have to Teach in India; It Is the 'Gospel of the English'": Constitutional History and the British Empire 113
6. "Norman History Merges in That of England, the British Empire, and the United States": Constitutional History and the Anglo-American Connection 137
7. "Designed to Disarm America by Destroying Patriotic Spirit and Inculcating National Pusillanimity in the Name of Peace": Constitutional History and America's Culture Wars 164

8. "The Endless Jar of Right and Wrong": Constitutional
History and the History Women 183

9. "I Never Met a Learned Man Who Less Oppressed
One with His Learning": Constitutional History as Lawyers' History and Historians' Law 208

Conclusion 231

Notes 241

Bibliography 295

Index 335