

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	i
Part One. The Emergence of Modern Geography	21
1. The Reorganization of Geographic Knowledge around 1800	25
2. The Aesthetic Origin of Modern Geography	56
3. The Philosophical Origin of Modern Geography	98
Part Two. Between Man and the Earth	125
4. Orientation: Figurations of Oriented Space	129
5. Dwelling in Space: Figurations of Cultural Landscape	157
6. Dwelling in Time: Figurations of Geohistory	202
Epilogue	241
Notes	253
Bibliography	309
Index	343