

Illustrations

Figures

|     |  |     |
|-----|--|-----|
| 2.1 | Main reasons for going out   | 48  |
| 2.2 | Comparison of life habit scales between the female health research volunteers and the female control cohort            | 50  |
| 2.3 | Comparison of life habit scales between the male health research volunteers and the male control cohort                | 50  |
| 2.4 | Comparison of principal life habit factors between the female health research volunteers and the female control cohort | 51  |
| 2.5 | Comparison of principal life habit factors between the male health research volunteers and the male control cohort     | 51  |
| 2.6 | Comparison of intake of food items between the health research volunteers and the control cohort                       | 53  |
| 5.1 | Still Photograph from the film Lily Festival  | 110 |

Tables

|     |   |    |
|-----|---|----|
| 1.1 | Participants at Time 1  | 20 |
| 1.2 | Summary of findings among Old-timers, Main-stayers, and Newcomers | 24 |
| 1.3 | Selection, optimization, and compensation among the three groups  | 31 |

|     |  |     |
|-----|--|-----|
| 2.1 | Demographic findings and gender differences in the cohort of health research volunteers              | 47  |
| 2.2 | Diversity of individual interests in the cohort of health research volunteers                        | 47  |
| 2.3 | Comparisons of the self-efficacy scale between the health research volunteers and the control cohort | 52  |
| 3.1 | Relationship of family caregiver to care recipient   | 67  |
| 3.2 | Interviewed caregiver characteristics  | 68  |
| 6.1 | Elements of speaking identified by the biomedical and sociocultural formulations                     | 149 |