

Tables

1.1. The Venetian school year in the eighteenth century	36
1.2. Virtual definitions of the year in order of initiation	36
2.1. Principal bodies of the Venetian government	48
2.2. A composite view of sacred and secular fixed feasts	51
3.1. Names and functions of the Campanile bells	66
3.2. Principal times for bell-ringing (12th-14th centuries)	67
3.3. Comparison of bell nomenclatures	68
3.4. Bells for workdays and feast days	70
3.5. Times at which the Realtina rang during autumn and winter	73
3.6. Hours for ringing the morning terza (1752)	76
3.7. Hours of assembly and dismissal, University of Padua (1788)	80
3.8. Hours for sunrise and the ringing of the terza (1782, 1860)	81
4.1. Quarterly closure dates for the civic lottery bank	97
4.2. Liturgical and civic dating alternatives for feast days	114
5.1. Divisions of the accounting year into theatrical periods	116
5.2. The order in which theatrical periods evolved	118
5.3. Conflicting times of performance for Adriano in Siria	140
6.1. Average number of works per theater per year	174
7.1. Provincial dates of adoption of individual theatrical periods	180
7.2. Autumn works given in Rovigo	182
7.3. Autumn works given in Dolo	186
7.4. Autumn works given in Este	186
7.5. Autumn works given in Treviso	188
7.6. Spring works given in Vicenza	190
7.7. Winter works given in Vicenza	191
7.8. Spring works given elsewhere in the Veneto	193
7.9. The sequence of ceremonial events on 24-26 December	202

SONG AND SEASON

8.1. Genre specialization by theater and season	231
8.2. Genre preference by theatrical period	233
9.1. Significant premieres given during Lent	255
9.2. Selected works opening during the St. Luke's period.	257
9.3. Selected works opening during the St. Martin's period.	257
9.4. Selected works opening during the St. Stephen's period	259
9.5. Selected works opening during Carnival	260
9.6. Selected works opening during the Ascension period	261
9.7. Selected works opening during the summer	262
10.1. Principal bibliographies of Venetian opera.	296
11.1. Delivery and departure times for the post	308
11.2. Comparison of dates for works of the 1670s and 1680s	341
11.3. Comparison of dates for works of the 1720s to 1740s	341
11.4. Canvas of dates for works of the 1690s and 1700s	342
11.5. Year- and sequence-error rates for bibliographies	344