

Contents

Contributors	vii
Introduction: Economies of Color Angela P. Harris	1
Part I The Significance of Skin Color: Transnational Divergences and Convergences	7
1 The Social Consequences of Skin Color in Brazil Edward Telles	9
2 A Colorstruck World: Skin Tone, Achievement, and Self-Esteem Among African American Women Verna M. Keith	25
3 The Latin Americanization of U.S. Race Relations: A New Pigmentocracy Eduardo Bonilla-Silva and David R. Dietrich	40
Part II Meanings of Skin Color: Race, Gender, Ethnic Class, and National Identity	61
4 Filipinos and the Color Complex: Ideal Asian Beauty Joanne L. Rondilla	63
5 The Color of an Ideal Negro Beauty Queen: Miss Bronze 1961–1968 Maxine Leeds Craig	81

6	Caucasian, Coolie, Black, or White? Color and Race in the Indo-Caribbean Diaspora	95
	Aisha Khan
7	The Dynamics of Color: Mestizaje , Racism, and Blackness in Veracruz, Mexico	114
	Christina A. Sue
Part III Consuming Lightness: Modernity, Transnationalism, and Commodification		129
8	Skin Tone and the Persistence of Biological Race in Egg Donation for Assisted Reproduction	131
	Charis Thompson
9	Fair Enough? Color and the Commodification of Self in Indian Matrimonials	148
	Jyotsna Vaid
10	Consuming Lightness: Segmented Markets and Global Capital in the Skin-Whitening Trade	166
	Evelyn Nakano Glenn
11	Skin Lighteners in South Africa: Transnational Entanglements and Technologies of the Self	188
	Lynn M. Thomas
Part IV Countering Colorism: Legal Approaches		211
12	Multilayered Racism: Courts' Continued Resistance to Colorism Claims	213
	Taunya Lovell Banks
13	The Case for Legal Recognition of Colorism Claims	223
	Trina Jones
14	Latinos at Work: When Color Discrimination Involves More Than Color	236
	Tanya Katerí Hernández
	Acknowledgments	247
	Notes	249
	Index	291