

Contents

Preface	ix
Prologue: The Definition of the Human	1
1 Perceiving Paintings as Paintings	29
2 “One and Only One Correct Interpretation”	71
3 Toward a Phenomenology of Painting and Literature	97
4 “Seeing-in,” “Make-Believe,” “Transfiguration”: The Perception of Pictorial Representation	123
Epilogue: Beauty, Truth, and the Passing of Transcendental Philosophy	145
Notes	161
Index	179