

Contents

Preface	vii
Ruti G. Teitel
Acknowledgments	ix
Contributors	xi
PART I: Frames
1 Introduction: Localizing Transitional Justice	3
Rosalind Shaw and Lars Waldorf
2 Stay the Hand of Justice: Whose Priorities Take Priority?	27
Harvey M. Weinstein, Laurel E. Fletcher, Patrick Vinck, and Phuong N. Pham
3 Transitional Justice After September 11: A New Rapport with Evil	49
Pierre Hazan
PART II: Local Engagements
4 An Acknowledged Failure: Women, Voice, Violence, and the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission	69
Fiona C. Ross
5 Histories of Innocence: Postwar Stories in Peru	92
Kimberly Theidon

6	Linking Justice with Reintegration? Ex-Combatants and the Sierra Leone Experiment Rosalind Shaw	111
PART III: Power, Politics, and Priorities
7	Reconciliation Grown Bitter? War, Retribution, and Ritual Action in Northern Uganda Sverker Finnström	135
8	Silence and Dialogue: Burundians' Alternatives to Transitional Justice Ann Nee and Peter Uvin	157
9	"Like Jews Waiting for Jesus": Posthumous Justice in Post-Genocide Rwanda Lars Waldorf	183
PART IV: Practicing Place-Based Justice
10	Weaving a Braid of Histories: Local Post-Armed Conflict Initiatives in Guatemala Laura J. Arriaza and Naomi Rohit-Arriaza	205
11	Dealing with the Past when the Conflict Is Still Present: Civil Society Truth-Seeking Initiatives in the Israeli-Palestinian Conflict Ron Dudai and Hillel Cohen	228
12	Local Transitional Justice Practice in Pretransition Burma Patrick Falvey	253
	Afterword: Elevating Transitional Local Justice or Crystallizing Global Governance? Moses Chrispus Okello	275
	Notes	285
	Bibliography	305
	Index	337