

CONTENTS

TRANSLATOR'S INTRODUCTION	xv
Lenn J. Schramm
PREFACE	xxi
PART I: ZOÏN AND BIOS
CHAPTER 1
LIVING AND KNOWING: SOCIAL IMAGES AND SCHOLARLY DISCOURSES	3
Differences and Continuity	11
CHAPTER 2
TOWARD A GENEALOGY OF ETHICS	17
1. Pleasure and Pain: The First Level of Ethics	17
2. The Myth of Adam's Fall and "True Knowledge of Good and Evil"	21
3. The Concerns of Moral Philosophy	22
4. From the First Level to the Second Level	30
5. The Third Level: Theoretical Deduction or Argumentation Genealogy	32
6. Modified States of Consciousness and the Sacred	36
7. Argumentation Ethics and Underdetermination	39
8. The Morality of Indignation	43
9. A Schematic Representation	45

PART 2: THE SUBJECT AND TIME

CHAPTER 3

A NATURAL SUBJECT IN THE FOURTEENTH CENTURY?

HASDAI CRESCAS ON DETERMINISM AND RESPONSIBILITY	49
1. Return of the Subject or Final Death? A Third Term	49
2. Ḥasdai Crescas, Determinism, and Freedom	54
3. Determined but Responsible	63
4. A Priori Responsibility and Factum Responsibility	66
5. “Subject of” and “Subject to”	71
6. Crescas and Spinoza: “God’s Joy”	74

CHAPTER 4

REALITY, PERFECTION, AND “GLORY”	78
1. “By Reality and Perfection I Understand the Same Thing”	78
a. Reality as Perfection and Perfection as a Model	78
b. Wisdom and Perfection	87
c. Toward Acquiescence and Joy: Provisional Morality and Habit	95
d. Acquiescence and “Gloria”	99
e. Human Dignity	103
2. “Glory”	105
a. Gloria/Kavod in Scripture and in Spinoza	105
b. Human Perfection according to Maimonides	108
c. Revisiting Gloria/Kavod in the Sacred Books, according to Spinoza’s Ethics	112
d. The Third Kind of Knowledge	117
e. Wisdom(s)	119

CHAPTER 5

THE GOD OF PERSONS AND THE FORM OF THE HUMAN BODY	125
1. Who or What?	125
2. The Form	127
3. The Human Body, the Subject of the Rights of Man	134
4. The Problems of Limits at the Start and End of Human Life	135
5. The Pragmatism of Talmudic Law	138
6. “I” Is the Tetragrammaton	141
7. The God of the Philosophers, and the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob	144
8. The Unique Person and His or Her God	147
9. The Voices of Prophecy Reflected on Themselves	152
10. An Absolute Singular?	155
11. What Am I?	156
12. Idolatry Does Not Have to Be Pagan	162

PART 3: THE RADICAL MONISM OF BODY AND MIND

CHAPTER 6

A SPINOZIST PERSPECTIVE ON EVOLUTION AND THE THEORY OF ACTION:

FROM ANALYTIC PHILOSOPHY TO SPINOZA	167
1. Immanent Causality and Temporal Evolution	167
2. Spinoza's Physics and Spinoza's Animism	171
3. The Synthetic Identity of Properties	176
4. Synthetic Identity, Referential Opacity, and the Underdetermination of Theories	177
5. Action and Perception: The Anomalous Monism of Donald Davidson	180
6. Action and Perception in the Light of Spinoza's Monism	185
7. The Analogy with Physical Magnitudes	188
8. Functional Self-Organization	190
9. Moral Judgment	193
10. Some Astonishing Neurophysiological Findings	195

CHAPTER 7

INTENTIONAL SELF-ORGANIZATION:

TOWARD A PHYSICAL THEORY OF INTENTIONALITY	197
1. Intention as Ex Nihilo Creation?	197
2. Self-Organization Is Not an Ex Nihilo Causa Sui	200
3. Is a Physical Theory of Intentionality Possible?	203
4. Physical and Chemical Reductionism and Phenomenological Reduction	204
5. Meaningless Complexity in the Information Sciences	205
6. "Sophistication" as a Measurement of Meaningful Complexity	210
7. Intentional Self-Organization	212
a. The Origin of Goals and the Types of Self-Organization	212
b. The Transformation of a Causal Sequence into a Procedure	214
8. A Non-Intentional Model of Intentional Behavior	215
a. Time Reversal	215
b. A Satisfaction Function and Its Origin	216
c. A Non-Intentional Model of Intentional Attitudes	218
9. Consciousness-Memory and Unconscious Self-Organization	219
10. Infinite Sophistication	220
11. Provisional Conclusions	224
a. Action and Perception	224
b. The Underdetermination of Theories and Intersubjectivity	225
c. Modeling the Models? The Transcendental Nature of Logic and Ethics	226
d. Reason and Common Notions	227

PART 4: TIME AND ETERNITY

CHAPTER 8

STATISTICS AND TEMPORALITY

231

1. The Use and Misuse of Statistics and Probability: A Brief Review 231
 - a. Misinterpretations in Medicine and Biology 232
 - b. Correlation and Causation 236
 - Retrospective and Prospective Studies 236
 - Correlation (Strong or Weak) Does Not Mean Causality 238
 - c. The Analysis of Variance and the Endless Debate about the Innate versus the Acquired 240
 - Heritability Is Not a Measure of Genetic Influence 241
 - The Hypothesis of Additivity 242
2. Paradoxes of the Possible and Probabilities: Time versus Eternity 244
 - a. The Monty Hall Problem, or Marilyn and the Goats 244
 - b. Fermat's Strictures and Pascal's "Mistakes": Equal Odds When Throwing Dice 248
3. Beliefs and Wagers 254

CHAPTER 9

MEMORY OF RITUAL, METAPHOR OF FERTILIZATION

257

1. To Remember and Not Forget 257
2. Generations 260
3. Past and Future: The Conversive Vav 261
4. The Origins 263
5. New Years, Memory, and Fertilization 267
6. The Time of Ritual: Conceiving a Memory 269
7. "The Vision and Riddle" . . . that "the Mouth Cannot Utter and the Ear Cannot Hear" 270
8. Underground History or Carnival? 273

PART 5: THE LETTER OF THE SPIRIT

CHAPTER 10

THE SO-CALLED CHOSEN PEOPLE . . .

279

1. A False Start: The Antisemitic Question 279
2. The Treason of Words and Their Improper Usage 282
3. What Does the Bible Say? 285
4. A Chosen People Like All the Others 287
5. There Is Nothing Special about the Essence of the People of Israel 290
6. Creating "Chosen Souls" 292
7. Understanding Another Imaginary 294

8. Where Is the Confusion?	297
9. The Election of “the Smallest of Peoples”	298
10. “Atheist” Theologies	300
11. The Tribe and the Humanity in Each Individual	300
12. A Tribal God in the Wilderness	302
13. Telecommunications to the Planetary God	303
14. Neither “Race” nor “Chosen People” . . .	305
15. The Question of the State	306
CHAPTER 11
MAIMONIDES THEN AND NOW	309
1. Science and Philosophy in the Twelfth Century	309
2. The Bodily Forms of God	310
3. The Face or Category of “In Front Of”	312
4. “The Eyes of YHWH”	313
5. Generosity and Rigor	315
6. Speculative Kabbalah and Modernity	317
7. Seeing and Speaking	318
8. Philosophy and Prophecy	320
9. “Practical Faith”	323
10. The Idolatry of History	327
CHAPTER 12
LEVELS OF MEANING AND THE ATHEISM OF SCRIPTURE	329
1. The Crowns on the Letters	329
2. The Meanings of a Bottle Found in the Ocean	331
3. The “Garden” and Its Four Levels	335
a. Pesbat : The Literal, Plain, or Obvious Sense	337
b. Remez : The Allusive Meaning	337
c. Derash : The “Allegorical” Meaning	339
d. The Hermeneutic Situation: Absence Postulated a Priori	341
e. Sod : The Hidden or Esoteric Sense	341
4. The White Space in the Text	344
5. The Name and Its Interpretations	346
6. Words of God and the Atheism of Scripture	348
SOURCES	353
INDEX	355