

Table of Contents

List of Illustrations	ix
List of Tables	xi
Acknowledgments	xiii
Abbreviations	xix
Introduction	i
1. Inducing an Industrial Revolution: The Creation of the National Steel Company	14
2. Industry Comes to a Village, Villagers Come to an Industry	39
3. State Paternalism in the Making of a Company Town	70
4. From Construction to Production: Labor Management in Transition	98
5. Beware of the Communists: Political Policing and Labor Control	124
6. Power over Production: The Technical Division of Labor and Workers' Strategic Positions in Steel	147
7. Strategic Power, Labor Politics, and the Rise of the Metalworkers Union	179
8. The Crisis of Developmentalism: From Union Hegemony to the Military Coup	206
Conclusion	233
Appendix	239
Notes	243
Bibliography	301
Index	317