

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	1
1 “The Crisis Is in Man”: The Nation, the Self, and Cultural Politics in the 1930s	15
2 A Genealogy of the Far Right	43
3 “Will We Get Out of French Abjection?” The Politics and Aesthetic Insurgency of the Young New Right	75
4 The Absent Author: Maurice Blanchot and the Subjection of Politics	118
5 “Negroid Jews Against White Men”: Louis-Ferdinand Céline and the Politics of Literature	158
6 The Race of Fascism: Je Suis Partout , Race, and Culture	194
Conclusion	245
Notes	261
Bibliography	333
Index	355