

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
A Note on Transliteration and Translation	xi
Introduction: Burying the Past: Iranian Modernity's Marriage to Realism	1
1 Dismembering and Re -membering the Beloved: How the Civil Code Remade Marriage and Marriage Remade Love	21
2 Wedding or Funeral? The Family Protection Law and the Bride's Consent	41
3 Ain't I a Woman? Domesticity's Other	59
4 Exhuming the Beloved, Revising the Past: Lawlessness, Postmodernism, and Heterotopia	94
5 A Metaphor for Civil Society? Marriage and "Rights Talk" in the Khātamī Period	112
Conclusion: A Severed Head? Iranian Literary Modernity in Transnational Context	129
Notes	137
Bibliography	157
Index	175