

Contents

Note on the Translation	ix
Foreword to the American Edition	xi
Prologue: The Form of the Sacred	1
From Archimedes to Münchhausen 2— Anatomy of a Global Panic 6— When Satan Casts Out Satan 13
1. Imagining the End: A Personal Journey	21
Staring at Catastrophe 21— Apocalypse Now 31— Illich and Girard 34— The Education of a Prophet of Doom 43
2. Science: A Theology in Spite of Itself	54
The Purported Neutrality of Science 54— The Theological-Scientific Problem 57— Why We Need the Future 60— When Technologies Converge 63— Beyond the Obsession with Risk 66— The Matrix of the Transhumanists 79— The Responsibility of Science 85
3. Religion: Natural Versus Supernatural	90
Looking in the Wrong Place 91— Religion as Collective Effervescence 95— Sacrifice and Murder 100— Sacrificial Thought and the Confusion of Categories 105— Religion and Morality 109— Scapegoats and Sacrificial Victims 116— The False Promise of Salvation by Morality 119

4. Rationality and Ritual: The Babylon Lottery 125
Chance as a Solution to the Theological-Political Problem 125—
Reason and the Rite of Election 130—The Lottery
in America 138—What Political Philosophy Can Learn from Anthropology 146
5. Justice and Resentment: Corruption of the Best 151
Justice Is Not Reducible to Logic 153—Social Inequality and Humiliation 157—What Economics Can Learn from Anthropology and Political Philosophy 165
6. The Nuclear Menace: A New Sacrament for Humanity 175
From bin Laden to Hiroshima 175—Theoretician
of the Atomic Age 178—The Impotence of Deterrence 185—
The End of Hatred and Resentment 193
- Epilogue: Variations on Vertigo 195
Self-References 195—On Madeleine's Mode of Existence 198—
Catastrophe and Time 201—The Object of Desire 205—
The Sense of the Past 209—Alcmena's Paradox 212