

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

TABLES

Table 1.1	Comparison of orientation to authority and perspective-taking across the adult forms of mind	19
Table 2.1	Strengths, blind spots, and central areas of growth for the self-sovereign form of mind	28
Table 2.2	Strengths, blind spots, and central areas of growth for the socialized form of mind	33
Table 2.3	Strengths, blind spots, and central areas of growth for the self-authored form of mind	41
Table 2.4	Strengths, blind spots, and central areas of growth for the self-transforming form of mind	44
Table 3.1	Steps for uncovering forms of mind	54
Table 3.2	Questions for different emotional valences	64
Table 3.3	Questions you ask to test particular forms of mind	66
Table 4.1	Summary table of key characteristics and coaching interventions	92
Table 5.1	Entry points in culture seminar	99
Table 5.2	Key outcome, design elements, and questions that support people at different forms of mind	109
Table 6.1	Questions most associated with particular forms of mind	117
Table 6.2	Perspective-taking capacities when people agree and disagree about important issues	121
Table 7.1	Scaffold building	146
Table 8.1	Tasks for leaders compared with tasks for us all	163
Table 8.2	Strengths, challenges, and compassion required to understand people as sensemakers	168

FIGURE

Figure 7.1 Increasing scale and scope of leadership demands	138
---	-----

EXHIBITS

Exhibit 8.1 Growing curious by searching for the equals sign	165
Exhibit 8.2 Understanding people as sensemakers: Separating data from meaning	170
Exhibit 8.3 Thinking and creating together: Cultivating developmental meetings	175