

CONTENTS

| | |
|--|------|
| Preface | ix |
| Contributors | xiii |
| Introduction: The Middle East and North Africa Beyond Classical Social Movement Theory Joel Beinin and Frédéric Vairel | 1 |

PART 1. AUTHORITARIANISMS AND OPPOSITIONS

| | | |
|---|---|----|
| 1 | Protesting in Authoritarian Situations: Egypt and Morocco in Comparative Perspective Frédéric Vairel | 33 |
| 2 | Egyptian Leftist Intellectuals' Activism from the Margins: Overcoming the Mobilization/Demobilization Dichotomy Marie Duboc | 49 |
| 3 | Leaving Islamic Activism Behind: Ambiguous Disengagement in Saudi Arabia Pascal Menoret | 68 |
| 4 | Hizbullah's Women: Internal Transformation in a Social Movement and Militia Anne Marie Baylouny | 86 |

PART 2. MOBILIZING FOR RIGHTS

| | | |
|---|--|-----|
| 5 | Three Decades of Human Rights Activism in the Middle East and North Africa: An Ambiguous Balance Sheet Joe Stork | 105 |
| 6 | Unemployed Moroccan University Graduates and Strategies for "Apolitical" Mobilization Montserrat Emperador Badimon | 129 |

viii CONTENTS

- 7 Presence in Silence: Feminist and Democratic Implications of the Saturday Vigils in Turkey 149
Zeynep Gülrü Göker
- 8 Mobilizations for Western Thrace and Cyprus in Contemporary
Turkey: From the Far Right to the Lexicon of Human Rights 167
Jeanne Hersant

PART 3. HOW ARABS BECAME REVOLUTIONARY

- 9 Becoming Revolutionary in Tunisia, 2007–2011 185
Amin Allal
- 10 A Workers' Social Movement on the Margin of the Global Neoliberal Order, Egypt 2004–2012 205
Joel Beinin and Marie Duboc
- 11 Dynamics of the Yemeni Revolution:
Contextualizing Mobilizations 228
Laurent Bonnefoy and Marine Poirier
- 12 “Oh Buthaina, Oh Sha^ʿban—the Hawrani Is Not Hungry,
We Want Freedom!”: Revolutionary Framing and Mobilization
at the Onset of the Syrian Uprising 246
Reinoud Leenders
- Notes 265
- Bibliography 289
- Index 323