

Contents

1. The Mere Extinguishment of Life? Technological Efficiency, Botched Executions, and the Legitimacy of Capital Punishment in the United States 1
 2. A Clumsy, Inefficient, Inhuman Thing: Death by Hanging 30
 3. When Science Fails: Electrocutation 61
 4. A Short and Unhappy History: The Gas Chamber 90
 5. “How Envable a Quiet Death”: Lethal Injection 117
 6. Botched Executions and the Struggle to End Capital Punishment 146
- Appendix A: Numbers of Botched Executions by Time Period and Method of Execution 177
- Appendix B: Botched Executions from 1890 to 2010 179
- Acknowledgments 211
- A Note on Collaboration 212
- Notes 213
- Index 259