

Contents

Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction: Art and the Real in Film	I
I. Art and Embodiment
1 The Moment of Portraiture: Scorsese Reads Wharton	19
2 Dutch Realism: Vermeer, Greenaway, Wenders	30
3 The Fascist Choreography: Riefenstahl's Tableaux	49
4 The Scene of Art in Hitchcock, I	68
II. Illusions of the Real
5 The Scene of Art in Hitchcock, II	87
6 Kubrick and Kafka: The Corporeal Uncanny	104
7 The Castrato's Voices: Fassbinder's In a Year of Thirteen Moons	116
III. Art and Embodied Spectatorship
8 Violence and Affect: Haneke's Modernist Melodramas	129
9 Images of Horror: Taste, Cannibalism, and Visual Display	159
Notes	193
Index	235