

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction: Reconsidering Ethnicity and Multicultural Development in the Peruvian Andes	1
Part I. Politics and Histories
1. In the Shadow of Terror: Indigenous Peoples and the State, 1980–2002	35
2. Race, Education, and Citizenship: From Indigenismo to Interculturalidad , 1920s–1990s	63
Part II. Ethnographies
3. Community Politics and Resistance: Challenging Representation	87
4. Conflicted Multiculturalisms: NGOs, the State, and the Contradictions of Rights Activism	110
5. Developing Indigenous Spaces: Intellectuals and Transnational Networks	133
Part III. Conclusions
6. Articulating Indigenous Citizenship: Intercultural Identities and Politics	163
Notes	179
Works Cited	189
Index	207
Photographs appear after page 160.	