

Contents

List of Illustrations	xvii
Introduction	1
1 Toward a New Art of Reading and New Historical Interpretations	11
Philosophical Travelers and the Humanist Art of Reading	13
Compilations of Travel Narratives	22
Cornelius de Pauw's New Art of Reading	26
The Critique of Classical Analogies in the Historiography of the New World	38
Conjectural and Philosophical Histories of America	44
Amerindians as Evidence	49
The Pursuit of Objectivity	51
New Similes, Same Historiography	55
2 Changing European Interpretations of the Reliability of Indigenous Sources	60
Primitive Scripts, Reliable Historical Documents	63
Philology, Collation, and Translation	70
Images as Sources in the Early Modern European World	88
Curiosities, Renaissance Humanists, and Amerindian Scripts	92
Conjectural Histories of Writing	95
Natural Histories of the Mind	111
Amerindian Sources in Eighteenth-Century European Historiography	114

Contents

3	Historiography and Patriotism in Spain	130
	The Travails of Lorenzo Boturini	135
	Boturini's Idea de una nueva historia general de la América Septentrional 136 / Clashing Patriotic Agendas 142 / Boturini's Ciclografía 148
	Empires Are Lost or Won in the Struggle over Naming and Remembering	155
	The Royal Academy of History and the History of the New World, 1755 – 1770	160
	The First Debate 161 / The Council of the Indies and the Academy 163 / The Second Debate 166
	The Archive of the Indies	170
	The Reception of Robertson's History of America 171 / Footnoting Robertson's History 174 / The Anonymous Review 178 / Juan Nuix's Riflessioni imparziali 182 / Ramón Diosdado Caballero 186 / Juan Bautista Muñoz 190 / Why Create Archives? 193 / Muñoz's History 196 / Crisis in the Academy 197 / Francisco Iturrí's Critique 199 / Conclusion 201
4	The Making of a “Patriotic Epistemology”	204
	Patriotic Epistemology: An Overview	206
	The Making of Patriotic Epistemology: Mexico, 1750–1780	210
	Juan José de Eguiara y Eguren 210 / Mariano Fernández de Echeverría y Veytia 213 / Three Processes of Distortion 217 / Fernando de Alva Ixtlilxochitl 221 / Giovanni Francesco Gemelli Careri 225 / José Joaquín Granados y Gálvez 230
	Creole Jesuits in Exile	234
	Francisco Xavier Clavijero 235 / Juan de Velasco 249 / Juan Ignacio Molina 253 / Pedro José Márquez 254 / José Lino Fábrega 258
	Manco Capac: The Ultimate Sage	261
5	Whose Enlightenment Was It Anyway?	266
	The Stones: Interpreting the Spanish-American Enlightenment	268
	Antonio de León y Gama's Descripción histórica 271 / José Antonio de Alzate y Ramírez's Misgivings 281 / Alzate y Ramírez on Xochicalco 284 / Alzate y Ramírez's Critique of León y Gama 286 / León y Gama's Reply 287 / Lizards and Epistemology 291 / A General Key to Mesoamerican Hieroglyphs? 292

Contents

Why Did Boturini's Collection Never Reach Madrid?	300
Our Lady of Guadalupe as Neoplatonic Seal and Mesoamerican Glyph	305
José Ignacio Borunda's Clave general de geroglíficos americanos 306 / Borunda on the Stones 309 / Christian Icons and Nahuatl Glyphs 312
The Ruins of Palenque	321
The Parish Priest and the Governor 322 / Antonio Bernasconi's Expedition to Palenque 325 / Antonio del Río's Expedition to Palenque 328 / Interpreting Palenque 330 / Interpreting the Provanza de Votán 333 / Pablo Félix Cabrera's Teatro crítico americano 334 / A Biblical Exegesis of the Popol Vuh 338
Conclusion	346
Notes	349
Bibliography	403
Index	439