

Tables

2.1	Civil society groups in Japan by type and number of groups	30
2.2	Japan's nonprofit sector by group type, operating expenses in millions of yen, and number of employees	31
2.3	Japanese organizational membership rates in international context	32
2.4	Comparative civil society professionalization by country	36
2.5	Top ten Japanese civil society groups in international development by membership	40
2.6	Top Japanese civil society groups in international development by staff levels	41
2.7	Top ten Japanese civil society groups in international development by budget	41
2.8	Membership of select environmental NGOs in Japan, Germany, and the United States	42
2.9	Largest environmental groups in Japan	43
2.10	Twenty largest Japanese foundations by asset size	44
2.11	Twenty largest U.S. foundations by asset size	45

3.1	Legal categories of groups in Japan	62
3.2	Explanation of permitting standards	64
3.3	Special public interest promoting corporations by legal category of group gaining tax privileges	68
3.4	The relationship between civil society groups and other political actors in Japan, as rated by the civil society groups	79
4.1	Activities and priority activities of NHAs in Ueda City, Nagano Prefecture	93
4.2	Percentage of neighborhood associations from five regions engaging in specified activities	94
4.3	Party identification of NHA council members and directors compared to the general public	96
4.4	Participation by NHA council members and directors in antinuclear weapons movement by their level of involvement	97
5.1	Standards considered in framing Article 34	132
6.1	Legal changes in the regulation of civil society in Japan	173
A.1	Distribution of types of groups by percentage—area of predominant interest based on NTT phonebook classification	192
A.2	Chronology of NPO law events	194
A.3	NPO law players	197
A.4	Comparison of key points of various NPO law drafts	200