

Acknowledgments

1. Judgment and Metaphysics: American Capital Punishment Jurisprudence and Friedrich Nietzsche's History
2. The Promise of Reliability and the Twin Objectives of the Capital Punishment System
3. The Consolation of Common Sense in the Regulation of Capital Punishment
4. The Cockcrow of Positivism: "Normal" Culpability in Capital Punishment Jurisprudence
5. The Impact of Payne: The Return of Sense to Capital Punishment Jurisprudence
6. The End of Error: DNA Technology and the Duty Not to Decide in Capital Cases
7. The Experience of Judgment

Notes

Bibliography

Index

Cultural Memory in the Present