

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments, xi

Abbreviations Used in the Text, xiii

1. Argentine Industrialization: An Introduction	1
Evolution of Argentine Industrial Development, 7. Organization of the Book, 14. The Promise of Industrialization, 16
2. Manufacturing Productivity and Concentration, 1895–1935	18
Census Data Description, 19. Estimates and Analyses of Labor Productivity, 19. Estimates from the Manuscript Census, 1895, 28. A Noncompetitive Industrial Sector, 36
3. Argentina's Investment in Imported Machinery, 1890–1930	40
Data and Methods, 41. Investment Cycles of Machinery, 42. Entrepreneurship, Technology, and Industrial Development, 54
4. Merchant Finance Groups in Argentine Industrialization	60
Data and Methods, 63. Formation of Merchant Finance Groups, 66. Five Leading Finance Groups, 69. Nondominant Groups and Their Sources of Finance, 77
5. Manufacturing Profits and Strategies, 1904–1930	81
Profits, Business Cycles, and Tariffs, 82. Manufacturing Strategies, 95. Shortcomings of the Manufacturers' Strategies, 105
6. Political Economy of Industrial Legislation	108
Data, 109. Tariff History, 1875–1914, 110. The Political Economy of the Tariff Debate, 112. Rationale and New Support for Tariff Protection, 1914–1930, 115. Critics of Protectionism, 123. Shortcomings of Industrial Legislation, 125
7. Conclusions	127

Appendixes

A. Potential Bias in the Census Data, 135. B. Census Survey Forms, 137. C. Data and Methods of Argentine Machine Investment, 1890–1930, 140. D. Data and Methods for Profit Calculations, 143

Notes, 147 Bibliography, 189 Index, 205